Sell The Emergency System That Respects Your Elders

The LifeGard™ Personal Emergency Response System was developed by the world's leading brand of wireless security systems.

A growing number of people are looking for personal emergency protection. The LifeGard Personal Emergency Response System is the ideal solution for them and for people with medical problems. They can enjoy living in their own homes longer–independently and without fear.

This affordable system lets people report an emergency at the press of a button. LifeGard's electronic signal allows you to provide an immediate response. And for added value and reassurance, the two-way voice module is integrated into the panel.

The tabletop system is simple to install and program. It also includes a wireless panic button for summoning help from anywhere in the home. LifeGard will watch over your customers and stand guard in case of an emergency.

If a crisis occurs, people don't need to panic. All they have to do is push the panic button. They have peace of mind, knowing that this Personal Emergency Response System is watching over them. Respect your elders–and increase your sales–with LifeGard.

Senior LifeGard

Seniority Means Business

The senior population is on the verge of explosive growth and so is the need for a Personal Emergency Response System. The advanced LifeGard system is the best available. It will help people live independently and help your business run more profitably.

Expand Into A Profitable Market

LIFEGARD IS DESIGNED FOR—

- Elderly people who require some supervision but not full time attention.

- Patients recovering at home after a hospital stay.

- Nursing home patients who are independent, but still need some assistance.

- People with disabilities.

HELP IS SAFELY WITHIN REACH. In addition to the tabletop unit, LifeGard has a portable panic button. Your customers can carry it with them during the day, put it on the bed stand at night and keep it nearby while bathing. They can summon help immediately, whenever and wherever an emergency occurs.

ESTABLISH VITAL COMMUNICATION. The module establishes instant, two-way communication during an alarm. The Central Monitoring Station can find out what's wrong, dispatch authorities and reassure customers that help is on the way. They can also communicate valuable information to emergency personnel who are en route.

LifeGard Also Offers:

- Our patented Learn Mode technology. All options and wireless sensors are pre-programmed at the factory for easy installations.

- Test button for easy testing.

- Capacity for up 24 zones, two of which can be hardwired.

- Event buffer for a history of recent system activities.
